(Add on Course in Insurance a Report on Convocation Program)

Smt Anupama B Pandit, the Administrative Officer GSSSIETW, the chief guest of the convocation program of first Add on Course Insurance, quoted from Rig Veda extolling the virtue of knowledge “let knowledge come from all directions”, She also spoke about the importance of having skills along with graduation to create a lucrative career. Students were advised to follow Your Story, The Better

India and Skill India on the Social media for inspirational stories of people who have tasted success with their skill and knowledge. She also announced that the next Add On Course would be ‘Agri-Com’

“Organic farming and agriculture are today seen as lucrative business by technically educated youth, some of them have given up high paying jobs in M N C s to take up scientific farming”, she said. She encouraged the students to make use of the start-up funding provided by the government for the youth who are interested in starting their own business. “Insurance as a career” was the first in the series of Add On Course started for the UG students along with the curriculum. All the students enrolled for the course which was provided free of cost. The main objective was to enable them to earn while pursuing studies.

On 12th July 2019, all students were awarded the certificates on successfully completed of the course. “75 candidates including 3 lecturers took up the exam held on 11th July 2019 at the college campus and all of them qualified themselves in the exam with flying colors” – quoted the Asst. Prof in English Sri Anil M, who is also the coordinator for the Add On Course.

Sri Venkatesh Rao H Y, Rtd Principal, DTI, LIC, Convener of Add On Course, in his observations spoke about the career in insurance seeking self-sufficiency in student life by becoming an LIC agent. He praised the students for their reciprocation to the course; his speech was concluded with a word of caution to the students to not neglect their academics for the sake of earning.

In her opinion, Likitha M of II B.Com expressed her gratefulness to the management, Director and everyone involved in designing and introducing such a course for students who can start a career in insurance side by side while still in college.

Mujassim Pasha, III B.Com student was all praises for the course which was very informative and helpful in building a career path. He looked forward for the forthcoming Add On Course.

The Chief Guest, the Director and the Convener of Insurance course awarded convocation certificates to the student which was followed by the Presidential Address.

Dr K V Prabhakara, Director SSFGC, in his Presidential address expressed a sense of fulfillment on successful completion of the course, and living up to the promise made by him to the students, parents and the management. He congratulated the students for successfully completing the course and was very happy to receive positive response about the course from the students.

In his address, he made a reference to the New Education Policy being drafted for 2020 by the former Vice Chancellor Kasturi Rangan. He said, "Vocation based Education is in drafting stage but it has already been successfully implemented by the management of SSFGC College". He also made an announcement that the new add on course "Agri Comm" would be conducted by Mr Shetty of Lab land. The program was concluded with the Vote of Thanks by Likith Babu of III B.Com.
