SEPTEMBER 2025

Server Monk IT Club

The Server Monk IT Club organized a Form Design Activity on 03 September 2025 for III Semester BCA students, aimed at enhancing front-end development skills through practical form-building exercises using HTML and CSS. The session included an introduction to semantic HTML elements, accessibility practices, and responsive design principles, followed by hands-on tasks where participants created forms such as Student Registration, Event Sign-Up, and Feedback Forms with proper validation and styling. Students structured their forms using semantic tags, applied CSS for layout and visual consistency, and later presented their work explaining design and validation decisions. Out of 18 participants, Likitha Singh, Priyanka S, and Gargie Yogish were recognized as the top three performers for their exceptional focus on usability, accessibility, responsiveness, and clean code. The activity resulted in improved understanding of semantic structures, accessibility standards, responsive layouts, and better code organization among students.

A Special Lecture on The Bard of Avon

The Department of English, GSSS SSFGC, organized an enlightening Special Lecture Series titled “A Study of Interconnection between the Plays and Sonnets by Shakespeare” on September 22, 25, and 27, 2025. The series aimed to explore the intricate thematic and structural bonds between William Shakespeare’s dramatic works and his sonnets, offering students and faculty an opportunity to engage deeply with one of literature’s most celebrated figures. The inaugural session was held in the college auditorium from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. on September 22, 2025. The event featured Prof. K. V. Satyan, Director of Hari Vidyalaya, Mysore, as the distinguished resource person. In his thought-provoking lecture, Prof. Satyan captivated the audience with his profound analysis of the interplay between Shakespeare’s plays and sonnets, highlighting the Bard’s timeless exploration of human emotions, identity, and truth. Quoting the immortal line from Hamlet, “This above all: to thine own self be true,” Prof. Satyan emphasized the theme of authenticity that runs consistently throughout Shakespeare’s works. He particularly focused on Julius Caesar, drawing parallels between its political and moral dilemmas and the ethical challenges of the modern world, thereby making Shakespeare’s insights resonate powerfully with today’s audience.

The session received an enthusiastic response from students and faculty alike, enriching their understanding of Shakespeare’s literary genius and reinforcing the enduring relevance of his works. The event was graced by Smt. Anupama B. Pandit, Secretary of the institution, whose presence reflected her deep appreciation for English literature and admiration for Shakespeare’s artistry. The lecture series concluded on a special note on September 27, 2025, with the presence of Sri . Vijaya Vaman, retired Principal, Junior College, Sagar, Shivamogga. His engaging discussion and vivid interpretations of Shakespeare’s texts along Prof K.V. Satyan brought the Bard’s characters and themes to life, leaving the audience inspired and intellectually enriched. Overall, the Special Lecture Series stood as a testament to the Department of English’s commitment to fostering critical thinking, literary appreciation, and a deeper engagement with classical literature. It not only illuminated the profound connections between Shakespeare’s plays and sonnets but also reaffirmed his place as a timeless guide to the human experience.

"Naadageethe-100 — Savira Swaragala Sambhrama"

A large-scale mass recital of Kuvempu's "Bharata Jananiya Tanujathe" was held at the Open Air Theatre, Manasagangothri, Mysore, on September 23, 2025, as part of the event "Naadageethe-100 — Savira Swaragala Sambhrama." The program was organized to commemorate the centenary of Karnataka's state anthem and to honor the legacy of Rashtrakavi Kuvempu. Around 25,000 college students and staff from various institutions participated in the grand recital, filling the venue with a sense of unity and cultural pride. All the students and faculty members of GSSS SSFGC actively took part in the event, contributing to its success. The collective rendition of the anthem created an atmosphere of patriotism and reverence, making the occasion a memorable tribute to Kuvempu's vision of harmony and humanism.
